H-HE WENT INTO POLNAREFF'S EYES!

THAT'S HOW I KNEW THE TRAJECTORY OF HOW HE'D JUMP...

BUT IF THE BOY CLOSED HIS EYES SUDDENLY, I KNEW THERE WAS ONLY ONE PLACE HE COULD JUMP TO-- MY EYES!

NORMALLY, THERE'S NO WAY I COULD HIT HIM...

I DON'T KNOW HOW, BUT HE CAN MOVE AT ALMOST THE SPEED OF LIGHT...

SPURT

A STAND OF LIGHT, TOO FAST TO HIT WITH MY SWORD...

IT JUMPS FROM MIRROR TO MIRROR... REFLECTION TO REFLEC-TION...

WE FIGURED OUT THE SECRET BEHIND YOUR STAND!

HOWEVER, YOU'RE DEFENSELESS WHEN YOU'RE JUMPING AND YOU CAN ONLY JUMP IN A STRAIGHT LINE.

IF I KNOW WHERE YOU'RE GOING, I CAN CUT YOU.

Hirohiko Araki talks about character creation!

JOJO'S BIZARRE ADVENTURE
PART 3
STARDUST CRUSADERS

Hol Horse

03

Part 3 was structured to be like a road movie, a la Mito Komon. That is, I would have the Joestar party, with Jotaro at the helm, head off on a journey, where along the way at various places, I would pit them against Stand users with differing abilities. Each of these Stand users he would fight would be unique, but I had to consider who I would have appear and in what way in determining how the story would flow. The series was meant to be long running, so I took great care in formulating the sequence of events so as not to lose the reader's interest. This is the case with Hol Horse as well. I designed his predecessors, Strength, Ebony Devil and Yellow Temperance, so that their appearances and abilities didn't overlap. I did the same with planning the fights--whether they'd be one-on-one or team battles. There were a lot of one-on-one battles leading up to this portion, so I thought I'd introduce a team of two Stand users at that point. That's why I had Hol Horse and Centerfold show up--because I was following the guidelines I had set for myself. If I had decided to introduce him at some other point, he might have been a lone-wolf gunslinger who was a little shorter.

I had planned from the beginning to have Kakyoin and Polnareff switch allegiances away from DIO to join the group, but I didn't plan this for Hol Horse. However, I don't think it would have been such a bad idea to have him join the group. Maybe I didn't because I love Westerns and it would have felt like a shame to remove the iconic "outlaw gunman" from the group somewhere along the way. I also liked his "why be number one when you can be number two" philosophy on life, which also carried on to Kira Yoshikage in Part 4. I drew him on a color title page like he was part of the crew, and I had him show up multiple times after his first appearance. However, my conclusion was that he would throw off the balance of the group if he were to join. As far as his character is concerned, both his looks and his personality overlap somewhat with Polnareff, and I felt that it would be difficult to work in his Emperor Stand as an ally.

The Emperor's motif is a gun, and I didn't add very many limitations based on how many bullets he could shoot or his firing distance. Unlike Mista from Part 5, who was only limited to six shots, The Emperor is a Stand, including the gun itself... I figured as long as the user himself doesn't get tired, he could shoot as many bullets as he wanted, and as I kept going with it, it kind of got out of control. Also, the whole aiming and shooting at an enemy part overlaps with Kakyoin's Emerald Splash. In the end, I made the decision based on his character and ability to have him remain as an enemy. Additionally, I didn't have any more humans join the group after that. We had the cute little dog Iggy instead to assist the Joestar party. From a balance perspective, I was totally fine with that (laughs).

"THE ONLY ENEMY CHARACTER I CONSIDERED HAVING JOIN THE GROUP"

The story behind the new illustration for JoJo Part 3 03!

Q. Hol Horse looks a lot like Gyro from Steel Ball Run!

A. They're connected in that they're both tough outlaws.

They both have that "spaghetti western" feel to them. Crank that aspect up a little bit more and that's my image of Gyro. At the time this was serialized, I might have also been inspired by another gun slinging outlaw, Buichi Terasawa's Cobra.

JOTAROOO!

THUD

THEN WHO'LL BE TAKING THE PLACE OF THE ONE AND ONLY JOTARO KUJO?

OH YEAH ?

JOTARO!

PITTER PITTER ガラガラ

YOU BETTER NOT SAY YOU!

WHOA!

REMEMBER WHAT YOU SAID ABOUT OUR PATH?

HMPH. BY THE WAY...

ゴォー VWOOM

Y-YOU WERE HIDING UNDERGROUND?! ALL THAT BURNED WAS YOUR COAT?!

FIND YOUR PATH...

I'LL HELP YOU...

EEK ...!

LET JOTARO KUJO SHOW YOU HOW IT'S DONE.

ONLY YOU CAN FORGE YOUR OWN PATH!

YOU'RE WRONG...

ORA ORA
